JOURNAL OF THE HONORABLE SENATE,

JUNE SESSION, 1860.

WEDNESDAY, June 6, 1860.

On the first Wednesday of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty, being the day prescribed by the Constitution for the Legislature of New-Hampshire to assemble, the following persons, elected Senators, assembled in the Capitol, in the city of Concord, in said State. His Excellency the Governor, attended by the honorable Council, having come into the Senate Chamber, thereupon they took and subscribed the oaths of office, and were duly qualified Senators, agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution: viz.,

From District No. 2—	Hon. Joseph Blake;
“ “ “ 3—	“ Herman Foster;
“ “ “ 4—	“ David Morrill, Jr.;
“ “ “ 5—	“ John D. Lyman;
“ “ “ 6—	“ Eli Wentworth;
“ “ “ 7—	“ Hosea Eaton;
“ “ “ 8—	“ Walter Harriman;
“ “ “ 9—	“ Thomas Fisk;
“ “ “ 10—	“ Jesse Slader;
“ “ “ 11—	“ George S. Towle;
“ “ “ 12—	“ William A. Burns.

His Excellency the Governor and the honorable Council then withdrew.

The Senate was called to order by Greenleaf Cummings, Clerk of the Senate last year.

The Clerk stated that the first business properly before the Senate would be the selection of a temporary presiding officer.

On motion of the Senator from No. 7, Mr. Eaton,

The Honorable Senator from No. 5, Mr. Lyman, was chosen President pro tempore of the Senate.

Mr. Lyman assumed the chair, when,

Upon motion of the Senator from No. 2, Mr. Blake,

The Senate proceeded to the choice of President, by ballot.

On the first balloting the President pro tem. announced the state of the vote to be as follows:

The whole number of votes cast is	10
-----------------------------------	----

Necessary for a choice,	6
-------------------------	---

Hon. William A. Burns has	1
---------------------------	---

“ Walter Harriman has	1
-----------------------	---

“ George S. Towle has	8
-----------------------	---

—and Hon. GEORGE S. TOWLE, having a majority of all the votes cast, was declared to be elected President of the Senate.

The President elect was conducted to the chair by the Hon. Senators from Nos. 10 and 12, Messrs. Slader and Burns.

Mr. TOWLE, upon taking the chair, addressed the Senate as follows:

Senators—I accept the office which you confer upon me by the vote just declared. I tender to you my grateful acknowledgments for the unsolicited partiality that assigns to me so distinguished a position, one so far above my deserts, in the deliberations of this honorable body. It is one that an honest ambition may honestly prize; but, more grateful to me than any honor it confers, will be the thrice grateful assurance it conveys of the personal regard and confidence of those from whom I receive it. To deserve and honor that confidence, especially in my official relations to this body, will command my highest ambition and efforts.

I need not remind you that the duties of a presiding officer in any deliberative assembly are necessarily arduous and responsible, and often they become difficult and embarrassing. To the intelligent discharge of those duties I bring no experience, no accomplishments, but only that untrained ability which will be made successful in your official service, only as it receives your constant and kindest aid and support. Allow me, then, with unaffected earnestness, to solicit from each one of you, during the session upon which we have entered, all of that generous support and forbearance upon which I only found my hopes of contributing to the public service and the credit of the Senate, in the office to which you have called me. And to deserve that grateful coöperation, I pledge to you my most earnest efforts to discharge my duties as your presiding officer, with all that fidelity and unswerving partiality that my abilities may allow.

With these few brief words, waiving all discussion of those glittering side topics, which ordinarily come in to embellish these opening ceremonies, I at once invite you to the practical business for which we were convened.

On motion of the Senator from No. 9, Mr. Fisk,
The Senate proceeded to the choice of Clerk by ballot.

On the first balloting the President announced the state of the vote to be as follows:

The whole number of votes cast is	10

COUNCIL CHAMBER, June 19, 1860.

To the honorable Senate and House of Representatives: In pursuance of a resolution adopted by the Senate, at the last session, the Governor and Council have examined the accounts of the Adjutant General, since the year 1855. It is proper to say that these accounts had before been examined and approved, each year, by the proper committee. The Council of my predecessor did not complete the examination required by the resolution of June session, 1858; and, accordingly, during the last year, I have given my personal attention to them. I find all the accounts correct, properly cast, and vouched.

The origin of the resolution of 1858, undoubtedly, was on account of some doubt whether the Adjutant General acted under proper authority. He made the transactions under authority of a resolution of the legislature, passed in 1849, under which transactions of the same nature were made by the predecessor of the present officer. It is my opinion that the exchange of arms was made with good judgment and to the advantage of the State.

The arms are now in excellent condition, the arsenals in the best order, and I see no occasion for further attention to the subject of the resolution in question.

ICHABOD GOODWIN.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened, That a committee of three persons be appointed by the Governor and Council, to make investigation of the facts in the case, and unless some reasonable and proper adjustment shall be made between these roads, that they report to the next session of the Legislature such legislation, if any, as they believe should be had upon the subject, and that they have power to examine parties and others in this State having knowledge bearing on these facts ; Provided, That the expenses and

STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened, That the selectmen of the several towns and places in this State be directed to insert in their several warrants calling the annual town meetings on the second Tuesday of March next, an article which shall require the sense of the qualified voters to be taken on the following question :

Is it expedient that a Convention be called to revise the Constitution ? the said Convention to be limited in its compensation to that now allowed members of the Legislature for travel and ten days' attendance, and to be limited in its action to the following particulars :

1st. To diminish the number of members of the House of Representatives :

2d. To increase the number of members of the Senate ;

3d. To make provision for future amendments of the Constitution ;

And the several clerks of such towns and places are directed to make due return of the votes of their respective towns and places, to the Secretary, on or before the first day of June next ; and the Secretary of State is directed to furnish the said clerks with proper blanks for that purpose.

The following message was received from the House of Representatives, by their Clerk :

Mr. President—The House of Representatives have passed the following resolutions, in which they ask the concurrence of the honorable Senate :

RESOLUTIONS RELATING TO NATIONAL AFFAIRS.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the following resolutions, sent up from the House of Representatives :

Whereas His Excellency the Governor, in his Inaugural Address, has called the attention of the Legislature and the people of this State to the condition of our national affairs, and has communicated to the House and Senate a copy of a resolution of the Assembly of New-York, in the following words :

“ Resolved, That this Legislature and the citizens of this State look with surprise, mortification and detestation upon the virtual re-opening, within the Federal Union, of the slave trade ; that against this invasion of our laws, our feelings, and the dictates of Christianity, we solemnly protest, here, as we will protest elsewhere, and especially at the ballot-box ; that we call upon the citizens of this Union to make common cause, in the name of religion, humanity, and as friends of principles underlying our system of government, to unite in bringing to immediate arrest and punishment all persons engaged in the unlawful and wicked slave trade, and hereby instruct our Senators and Representatives in Congress to exert all lawful powers for the immediate suppression of the infamous traffic."

And whereas it has long been customary for the people of this State, through their Senators and Representatives, in General Court convened, to make known their opinions and purposes with regard to pending national issues : Therefore, to conform to this long observed custom, and to set forth the position of the people of New-Hampshire,

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened, That New-Hampshire is, and will be as ready to recognize and perform its constitutional duties, as to claim and vindicate its constitutional rights.

Resolved, That the extension of African Slavery, by the power of the General Government, into free territory, would be in derogation of the compromises and provisions of the Constitution, of the rights of the people to shape their own institutions, and of revolutionary tendency, and should be resisted by all those who desire "Union and Liberty, now and forever, one and inseparable."

Resolved, That the people, through Congress, possess the power, and ought to exercise it, "to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property of the United States."

Resolved, That the virtual reëopening of the Slave Trade, in violation of the law, is a species of nullification more dangerous to the Union, and more degrading to the country, than that nullification which formerly threatened to accomplish disunion by force.

Resolved, That as our present sectional disputes have grown out of a departure from the policy and a disregard of the admonitions of Washington, the surest remedy will be found in a return to that policy, and a practical regard for those admonitions.

The resolutions were read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. President—The House have passed the following bill and joint resolution, in the passage of which they ask the concurrence of the honorable Senate :

Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate be presented to the Hon. George S. Towle, for the very acceptable and impartial manner in which he has discharged the duties of the chair during the present session.

The Senator from No. 8, Mr. Harriman, addressed the Senate as follows :

Mr. Clerk—I offer this resolution in good faith and in perfect sincerity, meaning by it all that its words can imply. It simply gives expression to the kind sentiments which I entertain, and which, I have no doubt, all of us entertain, towards the presiding officer of this body.

I thank him for the courtesy and consideration he has uniformly shown to me, and not to me alone, but to every member of the Senate. I thank him for the unvarying fairness and impartiality by which he has been governed through the entire session, and on every occasion. I but express the feeling of every Senator when I declare that the duties of the chair, which have been oftentimes difficult and perplexing, have been faithfully and acceptably performed.

I shall bear to my retirement a pleasing recollection of our deliberations here, of all that has transpired here, satisfied that no unkind word, or thought even, has been permitted to disturb our friendly relations, or to leave a sting, to rankle in any bosom hereafter. And though the reflection that we shall not all thus meet here together again is, in some respects, sad and unwelcome, the ever-present thought that we have acted like men, and separated as friends, will be a pleasing one to the end of our days.

The resolution was read by the Clerk, and the question being stated, Will the Senate adopt the resolution? the affirmative of the question prevailed, and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The President, Hon. George S. Towle, addressed the Senate as follows :

Senators :—For this more than generous expression of your approval of my official conduct as your presiding officer, during the session that now rapidly draws to a close, I tender to you the fullest measure of grateful thanks that can be expressed through the cold medium of words. Could I feel the assurance that, in all substantial particulars, I had established a just claim to the offering you here bring, I would receive it as the proudest gift of my public life. It is something for a public officer, standing in this place, to know that he has assiduously labored to do his duty—something to know that he commands the respect of his associates for fidelity in their service ; but it is more, when he can feel the assurance that he has succeeded in rewarding their generous confidence with that measure of able service about which there can gather no humiliating recollections.

But let me not linger here. When I assumed this chair I pledged to you only the halting service of the novice, in the discharge of its duties ; and in this regard I feel abundantly assured you will allege no breach of contract on my part. I pledged to you an earnest will, and impartiality in the discharge of my official duties ; and here, too, I know there has been a faithful fulfillment of obligations to the very letter. That there have been short comings in your service, many and grievous, I am too painfully aware ; but for every thing in this connexion I invoke that charity and forgetfulness to which all generous minds will readily respond ; while at the same time I assure you that the kindness and high-toned courtesy which you have so uniformly extended to me in my official labors will be more than gratefully cherished while memory shall continue to discharge any of the most sacred trusts of existence.

Aside from the associations of this chair, my recollections of the Senate of 1860 will ever be of the most gratifying character, and, for the substantial reason, that in its practical character, proceedings, and records, in the practical fidelity, industry, and cautious, conservative intelligence with which its members have discharged all their official duties, this same Senate deserves and will receive the highest commendation of the citizens of our State.

It has been with the proudest satisfaction that I have watched the keen scrutiny to which every measure of legislation has been subjected, that came into this chamber for indorsement; and the prompt challenge to which all such measures have been subjected, that looked toward doubtful or special legislation, that looked toward an infringement of the Constitution in its terms or spirit, or that sacred theory of equal rights to all of our citizens under that Constitution, which it is the highest office of legislation to preserve from violation. May it ever be so. While our legislation shall continue to proceed upon this vigilant and enlightened basis, disaster can not seize the Republic. Our Constitution, and the rights of the people under it, will be safe from all those insidious influences that are ever at work for their infringement.

But let me not weary you. I find no words with which to reiterate to you my sense of obligation for your courteous and friendly bearing toward me, while in the occupation of this chair, and elsewhere. I find no words with which to express the more than friendly feelings which I cherish and shall ever cherish for every member upon this floor. Our work is done, and, as we believe, has been well done; and when the hour strikes for our separation, may we return to our families to find that, in our absence, they have all been under the kindest care of that kind Providence that is over us all. And wherever in the future we may be, and whatever may be our differences in mere matters of political opinion, may we ever remember that we are all united by one common tie of civil brotherhood, bound to one common civil destiny, and bound to labor and sacrifice to the utmost and to the last, for the honor and prosperity of our own cherished little State, our country, and our whole country, our Union and its liberty, one and inseparable, now and for ever.

The Senator from No. 12, Mr. Burns, presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate be extended to Greenleaf Cummings, Esq., Clerk, and William A. Preston, Assistant Clerk, for the faithful and gentlemanly manner in which they have discharged their duties during the session.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate be presented to Henry Willard, Doorkeeper, for the faithful and acceptable manner in which he has discharged his several duties, and for his courteous and pleasing bearing to each member of the Senate during the present session.

The affirmative of the question prevailed, and the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The Senator from No. 8, Mr. Harriman, moved that the resolutions upon national affairs, now lying upon the table, be taken therefrom and considered.

The motion prevailed, and the same Senator moved to amend by adding a new resolution at the close of the series, as follows :

Resolved, That the doctrine of non-intervention by Congress with the subject of slavery in the territories, while it removes from the halls of Congress this exciting question, is well calculated to allay sectional animosities in the country.

[Mr. Harriman in the chair.]

Upon the question of the adoption of the amendment, the yeas and nays were demanded by Mr. Foster.
